

The EU recognizes that the transition to clean energy has the potential to generate significant growth in the future. That is where the smart money is.

*Marie-Anne Coninx, Ambassador
European Union Delegation to Canada*

